Dear Love,

I want to sincerely apologise for not being the person you wanted me to be and for any promises I made but couldn't keep. I regret the ways I've let you down. Despite everything, I genuinely feel happy when I'm with you, and I've never doubted my feelings for you. I hope you can find it in your heart to forgive me.

I don't want you to get hurt because of me. Seeing you cry breaks my heart. I don't want you to regret being with me, though I fear you already do. If my leaving would make you happier, please let me know. Your happiness means everything to me.

You are my first love, and I've never loved anyone like I love you. Even though you may not love me back, I know I can't love anyone else.

I don't want this to be a break up letter. I need you in my life, and I need to be there for you. Please, let's work through this together. Your happiness means everything to me, and I'm committed to doing whatever it takes to make things right. Please be there.

If you're made up your mind to leave me, I won't stop you, but I'll stay waiting for you to come back. Just know that. I'll be here with my arms open to accept you any time you come. I'll be waiting because I have no one else to wait for, I know you're perfect for me, so I'll be waiting for you.

Take all the time you need. I'll be here, whenever you're ready to return. While you're away, I'll be focusing on becoming the best version of myself, cherishing the things you love, and growing in every possible way. Each day, I'll be thinking of you, striving to be more responsible, mature, and kind. My goal is to make you proud and to ensure our happiness when you're back.

Yours sincerely,

Pushkar K U
