

I needed someone to love me, to take care of me and look I have become the fuel and you are the spark, we have set this love on fire. This has burnt everyone on its way. Your name is associated with my name, for me you are an achievement, you are the king of my kingdom(heart). You make my heart go Oooooo.....

We fight everyday, But we are bound to each other's heart, This love is like marriage even though am not 21 yet.

Every inch of my body is mapped to you, cant stop this feeling of needing you, the more I need you, hope it doesn't burnt out the air. Im trying to describe love, but cant finish this love without you.

You are my world now, and ill be truth, cant lose this fire, this love is all I need.

All I Need
